Eloise's highlight:

One cake sale is unlikely to be enough to reach your fundraising target. But by organizing cake and Krispy Kreme sales regularly throughout the year, Eloise managed to raise over £400 in total!

Eloise's advice:

"Be persistent, and enjoy it, so many times I stopped and looked at how far I had left and I would really scare myself and think 'ahh I'm never going to make it', but then another stranger would make a donation, or another shopping centre would let me do a bake sale, or my mum would come up with another brilliant fundraising idea. There's always a way, so just look forward and enjoy the journey".
