Caitlin's highlight:

Caitlin shows that you don't need to receive loads of donations from friends and family in order to smash your fundraising, and that it's well worth taking advantage of the opportunities that MRF offer as she raised over £2,200.00 just from street collections and London Loot alone!

Caitlin's advice:

"I would definitely say go to as many bucket shakes as possible right from the beginning of the year because you can raise so much, and you can meet and bond with the other people doing your trek which makes the whole experience more fun. And don't panic if you fall behind a bit on fundraising early on, there's plenty of chance to catch up with big events and London Loot in Easter and summer!"
